"The goal of Ayurveda is to maintain the health of the healthy and to cure the disease of the ill"

ABOUT AYURVEDA

AYURVEDA means Ayur + Veda, Ayur means Life and Veda means Science or Knowledge, that means Ayurveda is a Science/knowledge of Life.

According to our scriptures God dhanvantre originate during Samudra Manthan, with Ayurveda Literature.

Ayurveda is sub text of Atharva Veda. Charak Rishi is the Father of Ayurveda Medicine.

Ayurveda contains of Ashtang i.e. 8 branches Kaya Chikitsa (Internal Medicine), Shalya Tantra (Surgery), Shalakya Tantra (ENT & Ophthalmology), Kaumarbhritya (Pediatrics), Agad Tantra (Toxicology), Bhut Vidya (Psychiatry), Rasayan (Rejuvenation & Geriatrics), & Vajikaran (Sexology & Fertility), Stri Rog (Gynecology & Obstetrics).

♥ According to Ayurveda, the human body is made up of the Panch Mahabhoot, Tridosa and obstetrics, Sapt Dhatu (Seven Body Tissues).

♥ Panch Mahabhoot — the five fundamental elements: Prithvi (Earth), Jal (Water), Agni (Fire), Vayu (Air), and Aakash (Ether/Space).

♥ The balance among Vata (Air + Ether), Pitta Dosha (Fire + Water), and Kapha Dosha (Earth + Water), determines health, while imbalance leads to disease.

♥ Ayurveda describes seven dhatus (Tissues) that nourish and sustain the body. Each dhatu develops sequentially and supports physiological functions and growth. Rasa Dhatu (Plasma/Lymph), Rakta Dhatu (Blood), Mamsa Dhatu (Muscle), Meda Dhatu (Fat), Asthi Dhatu (Bone), Majja Dhatu (Bone Marrow/Nervous Tissue), Shukra Dhatu (Reproductive Tissue).
